

Curriculum Overview: High School

When it comes to providing a Christian education for high school students there are various approaches that will be provided, depending on your students' needs. The courses needed will vary tremendously from student to student. Hence, it will be highly individualized.

What is the goal of high school? Does it need to be accredited?

The answer is highly individualized, especially these days.