

Schools are Childcare: Myth or Reality?

The answer has changed over time.

When our country was in its infancy, schools were founded as little red schoolhouses, where the children were taught for one reason--to learn to read so they could read the Bible.

Over time, a paid teacher was provided (frequently the pastor who knew how to read), and the parents were free to work on their farms, etc. But the real purpose for school was to educate. It was not to provide free childcare.

Over time, society has relied on education, especially public school, as places for their children to be educated for free. But they are also relied on as free childcare.

And these days, the cost of living has risen to the point where more and more families cannot exist on one income alone. As a result, the reality is that more and more parents rely on the free childcare public schools provide. And for years, this worked.

But, what happens when this free childcare begins to strip them of their parental rights? What happens when this free childcare begins to teach the children (as young as Kindergarten) that their identity is anything but the truth that God's Word tells them? What happens when this free childcare begins to introduce pornographic material to their children? What happens when the children are no longer safe in this free childcare? And last but not least, what happens when this free childcare no longer provides an education that will teach them what they need to be a productive member of society?

What will happen to HIS children, because the parents need free childcare?
AND many DO need free childcare!

What will happen to all the children who cannot afford any other school?
Is it still okay for a Christian education to be available only to those who can afford it?

Today -- hard choices need to be made.
It's time to take back the stewardship of HIS children from world.

There is a way. To provide an affordable Christian education for all of HIS children, regardless of whether or not both parents must both work full time.

There is a way. To provide an affordable Christian education for all HIS children, regardless of whether or not the family can afford it.

It will take effort to get it started. But these times are not easy. And God WILL give you the strength! He will give you the strength, the will, and the power to achieve His purposes for HIS children! He will rally an army of extended family, retired church friends, including teachers to help!

We can do all things through Christ, Who strengthens us!
